

Eisenhower Digs Deeper Into U. S. Foreign Problems

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower plunged deeper today into his study of America's foreign problems, fixing appointments with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and John Foster Dulles, architect of the treaty with Japan. Dulles is frequently mentioned as a possibility for secretary of state in Eisenhower's cabinet.

THREE FOR CABINET

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower announced today he has chosen John Foster Dulles as secretary of state; Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, as secretary of defense, and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon as secretary of the interior.

Between them, the two appointments will take up most of the general's second day of conferences. New York. Each is scheduled to last nearly two hours. Eisenhower discussed foreign problems at length yesterday, getting two reports on Korea.

Backs UN Stand

He was quoted by Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, member of the United States delegation to the United Nations, as standing firmly behind the delegation's position on the pivotal question of compulsory return of war prisoners in Korea. The senator said:

Bus Segregation Ruled Illegal

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Segregation of white and Negro passengers on buses running between states has been declared illegal by a Federal District Court here.

The decision yesterday came a week after the U. S. Supreme Court declined to review another ruling by the same District Court which invalidated segregation on interstate railroad travel.

The prior ruling established the precedent that led to Judge Serling Hutcheson's decision in the bus segregation case.

"If such regulation (requiring segregation) issued by a railroad is invalid, it necessarily follows that its adoption by a bus company would not make it valid," said Judge Hutcheson.

The decision resulted from a case brought by J. B. Williams, a Negro of Spring Hope, N.C. Williams charged he was put off a bus operated by the Carolina Coach Company—better known as Trailways Lines—when he refused to move his seat while on a trip to Norfolk Sept. 4, 1950.

Arrested on a charge of violating North Carolina's segregation ordinance—the charge later was dismissed—Williams sued for $50,000. Judge Hutcheson awarded him $251 in compensatory damages.

Martin A. Martin, Richmond Negro attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People who represented Williams, said the decision will bring about the abolition of segregation on common carriers throughout the South.

Dixie Group Won't Recognize Stevenson As Head Of Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia and some other Senate Democrats would guide the Democratic party over the next four years if South Carolina's Sen. Burnet Maybank has his way.

Maybank told newsmen yesterday he does not recognize Adlai Stevenson, the defeated Democratic presidential candidate, as titular head of the party until the next presidential election.

Maybank, who favored Russell for president this year and says he would again in 1956, said he includes himself among the other Senators he described as "caretakers of the party."

Shortage Of State Funds May Close Public Schools

WHERE DID SHE PUT IT ALL?—Carolyn Wood, of Boston, Mass., says she is the "eatingest girl in the world." Only five feet, six inches tall, and weighing 125 pounds, the 21-year-old dancer recently put away the equivalent of seven full meals in less than two hours, to prove her point. Among other items included in the gargantuan feast were: two filet mignons, four sirloin steaks, a turkey dinner, and mounds of vegetables, all topped off with assorted desserts, three cups of coffee and 26 rolls. Following a childhood illness, Carolyn said that she decided to eat her way back to health, and never feels any ill effects from her occasional huge meals.

Foreign Spending Faces Cut In 1953

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign affairs experts predicted today the new Republican-controlled Congress will trim U. S. spending abroad, with emphasis on military and economic aid shifting from Europe to Asia.

Foreign aid likely will kick off the first big debate in the 83rd Congress convening Jan. 3. Extension of the Mutual Assistance Program is one of the first things on its agenda.

Earmarked For Guns

With Republican leaders just about agreed on a top budget figure of 70 billion dollars in fiscal 1953-54, the foreign spending program faces possibly hefty reductions for the year beginning July 1. The authorization for this year, ending next June, is $6,447,730,750.

Any controversy is certain to center around American outlay of $33,104,867,055 during the postwar years since 1945 and gross foreign spending of some 87 billion dollars since 1940.

Much of the money authorized and appropriated is as yet unspent. As of last June, the mutual security program showed a five-billion-dollar balance earmarked for guns, tanks, aircraft and the like. Funds not obligated and carried over amounted to about 400 millions.

Europe Lagging

Rep. Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin, fourth-ranking Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the whole foreign aid program must be reviewed and reduced. He told a reporter:

"I don't think the country will stand for any more all-out spending. We owe it to the country to sit down in bipartisan fashion and take a good look at the new problems which have arisen."

Among such problems, Smith

Congress Expected To Retain Controls

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) says he is certain the new Republican Congress will approve some form of price, wage and rent controls whether or not President-elect Eisenhower favors them.

Capehart, scheduled to become chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which handles controls legislation, brought this out yesterday shortly after a hearing at which Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods urged that controls be extended.

Law Expires April 30

The law authorizing controls will expire April 30 unless extended, and there has been talk in Congress of refusing to extend it.

Capehart told a reporter he was certain his committee would approve and Congress would pass some form of standby controls in the next session, whatever it decides about the present controls.

Asked if he thought Eisenhower would want such standby authority,

Woods told the Senate-House Defense Production Committee, before which he appeared as a witness, that he is determined to order a rollback of the retail price of beef if this is legally possible.

Falls From Plane

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—While taking pictures from a plane, public relations man Charles Rinehart fell out over Lake Jessup yesterday. His parachute opened and he landed in waist-deep water. A fisherman carried him ashore.

Marries Broker

NEW YORK (AP)—Kay Summersby, 43, President-elect Eisenhower's wartime secretary, is scheduled to be married today to Reginald H. Morgan, 47, of New Canaan, Conn., a Wall Street broker.

LaBranche Man Killed By Deer Gun; Escanaba Hunter Found Dead

A LaBranche hunter, Edward Lange, 55, was shot to death in a hunting accident north of LaBranche this morning and an Escanaba hunter, Peter Johnson, 52, of 916 Sheridan Road, was found dead of a heart attack in the woods in the Stonington peninsula.

Lange was shot at nine o'clock this morning by his brother, Arthur, 47, while hunting on the Lange property, 5½ miles north of LaBranche. Lange died at St. Francis hospital two hours later.

Lange was shot through the right side of the chest by a 30-30 rifle bullet, shattering a lung. His brother, Arthur, told officers that he was shooting at a deer when Edward stepped into the line of fire. Arthur said that he did not see his brother and did not know that he had shot him until he heard Edward yell that he had been hit.

Another brother, Charles, also was in the hunting party.

Johnson was found dead at 7:55 this morning by two hunters, Clifford Kent and Cecil Fair, of Battle Creek. Johnson had not been seen

Censor In Korea Court Martialled

Ft. Meade, Md. (AP)—Lt. Col. Melvin B. Voorhees, Army censor in Korea accused of writing a book that wasn't censored, will be court martialled here.

Second Army headquarters announced yesterday that it would push charges against Voorhees for his book, "Korean Tales," which, in his own words "took a slap at a large part of the correspondents corps, which I felt was violating security and endangering lives."

Voorhees is charged with failing to submit a manuscript of his book to the Department of Army for review and disregarding the order of his commanding officer to withdraw the book from publication.

The charges were filed by Gen. Joseph Swing, commander of the Sixth Army on the West Coast but the investigation was switched here so Gen. Swing would not have to act as both prosecutor and judge.

Voorhees said his book, published Armistice Day, ran into a "one-general barrier" in the person of Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn, deputy information officer at the Pentagon in Washington. Voorhees contends Dorn opposed the book because "he said I had no right to write a story which reflected against Gen. MacArthur."

Gen. Dorn denied this. He and his staff spent three days going over the book with Voorhees and ordering changes in "certain parts that were not suitable," Dorn said.

Sen. Taft Suggests Industrialist For Defense Secretary

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today was reported to be urging President-elect Eisenhower to appoint an industrialist as secretary of defense.

The Ohio senator was said to have submitted the names of three businessmen for the post, without indicating any preference among them. They are:

Edward L. Ryerson, 65, of Chicago, director of the Inland Steel Corp., and chairman of the board of Joseph T. Ryerson and Son. Ryerson is a Yale man, as is Taft.

B. E. Hutchinson, 64, of Detroit, vice president of the Chrysler Corp., and chairman of its finance committee.

Charles McElroy White, 61, of Cleveland, president of the Republic Steel Corp.

Trouble-Shooter Needed

There have been some reports that Eisenhower might pick Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who has been serving as his liaison man with government departments.

There were stronger indications,

Auditor General Predicts Crisis Early In 1953

LANSING (AP)—Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., predicted today Michigan public schools will have to close in the next six months unless they can get additional borrowing power.

He made the statement as he revealed a schedule of how the state's general fund deficit will mount in the next half year while the Legislature is fighting spurring red ink.

In January, Martin said, the public schools will receive $25,000,000 less state school aid than they expect to carry them through to the March state aid allocation.

"The crisis will be on many of them by late January or early February," Martin said.

He said the state will pay the schools and the local units of government the $20,000,000 a quarter they have coming from the sales tax diversion amendment without failure because the State Supreme Court has held this distribution is mandatory and self-executing.

But, Martin said, the state school aid appropriation is not considered in the same class legally and that will have to take its place in the line-up with other pressing demands for the state's dwindling cash.

Will Have To Borrow

"Unless the state is to stop operating," Martin said, "some one must go unpaid from time to time."

The state will go behind an average of $8,000,000 more each month between January and June, Martin said. Its normal operating demands are about $20,000,000 a month. It must pay out $12,000,000 on its veterans bonus bonds in March. It must shell out $20,000,000 a quarter in sales tax diversion and Martin added:

"Three times in the next five months we are supposed to pay out $32,000,000 in school aid."

He predicted the state would be able to pay only one-third of the school aid money in the next six months.

Airliner Blazes Trail Over Pole

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A Scandinavian airliner winged across the top of the world today and landed at the big U. S. Air Force Base at Thule, North Greenland, more than half way along the trail it is blazing for commercial aviation over the north pole.

The Arild Viking, making the first of two exploratory flights from Los Angeles to Copenhagen, landed at Thule at 3:28 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, the Scandinavian Airlines System, operators of the plane, announced.

The Viking carried 22 passengers, a crew of 13, such arctic survival equipment as sleeping bags, skis, snowshoes, snow shovels and rifles, and 500 pounds of mail. Her operators hope to inaugurate regular commercial service on the top-of-the-world route between Los Angeles and Copenhagen soon.

The polar airliner touched down at the new 263-million-dollar air base—the first commercial airliner to use the big field—an hour ahead of schedule, after a 1,945-mile hop from Edmonton, Alta.

Flying time for the arctic jump was three minutes over seven hours. For the entire 5,852-mile trip, time in the air was estimated originally at 24½ hours.

Baby-Sitter Killer, 18, Faces Death Sentence

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Convicted of murdering a 15-year-old babysitter last August, Billy Rupp Jr., 18, has been adjudged sane at the time of the crime, making his death sentence mandatory.

Rupp, a Yorba Linda, Calif., beekeeper, was convicted last Thursday of the sex slaying of Ruby Ann Payne. The jury deliberated only 22 minutes yesterday on his insanity plea.

Rupp was accused of molesting and shooting the Payne girl while she was caring for the children of Perry Dyer, his employer.

No Gun Deaths For 24 Hours In Deer Woods

(By The Associated Press)

Michigan's 1952 deer hunting season counted more than 24 hours without a gunshot fatality as today's shooting started.

Eight hunters have been fatally wounded by gunfire since the season got underway last Saturday. In addition, ten have died of heart attacks and two drowned.

The latest heart attack victim was Robert S. Wade, 66, of Bad Axe, who collapsed and died today in a camp near Glennie in Alcona County. He had been hunting with friends.

Three Wounded State police reported three hunters wounded Wednesday, including two men and a woman.

Mrs. Leo Lawrence, 36, of Germfask, was accidentally shot in the back when her son Duane slipped and fell as he aimed at a deer. They were hunting near their home in Schoolcraft County.

Lewis Knapp, 41, of Lake City, was shot through the hand and stomach by his brother, Lloyd while hunting in a swamp in Branch township, Missaukee County.

A Gaylord man, Ray Riddle, 42, accidentally wounded himself while loading his pistol in a hunting camp in Otsego County. The weapon went off accidentally, fracturing his skull. Riddle was reported in serious condition.

Weather Improves

Hunting conditions were reported improving somewhat, with colder weather and some snow flurries forecast for Thursday.

Michigan Conservation Director G. E. Eddy issued a plea for more caution in shooting—particularly during the three days before the season ends Dec. 1. During that time there will be an open season on all deer and more hunters are expected to be in the woods.

"Facts show that several of the dead hunters this year would be alive today had someone used an extra ounce of precaution," Eddy said.

Purged Czechs Tried As Spies

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The former secretary general of the Czechoslovak Communist party, tough, Moscow-trained Rudolf Slansky, was listed for trial in Prague today with other purged leaders of the Red Czech regime—a mass hearing some diplomats expect will rival the 1936 Moscow trials.

Announcement of the hearing was made earlier today by Prague radio. The broadcast said that Slansky would be tried together with "his group," but it gave no indication of how many defendants would face the court or who the others might be.

The radio also made no mention of the charges but Slansky and others purged with him have been publicly accused of high treason.

The radio said it would broadcast daily reports of the court proceedings. There have been no Western news correspondents in Czechoslovakia since the conviction last year of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis on "spy" charges—a trial denounced throughout the non-Communist world.

New Dock Planned

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Plans for building a new dock—second link in a proposed continuous stretch of municipal dock along the west bank of the Cheboygan River—was announced today by City manager Don Brown. The city has acquired 400 feet of riverfront property and plans to build the new dock for summer yachts and parking facilities. One section was constructed last summer.

Air Force Keeps On Flying Scorpion Jets Despite Bad Mishaps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is going to keep on flying its F89 Scorpion jet interceptor. Roswell L. Gilpatrick, Air Force under secretary, said yesterday there would be no cut in orders from Northrop Aircraft, Inc., producer of the speedy planes, because of a series of fatal crashes which have kept Scorpions grounded for two months.

He said wing weaknesses in earlier models would be corrected in planes now coming off the production line.

Michigan Senatorial Vote Inquiry Begun

DETROIT (AP) — Three Senate investigators were due here today to begin an inquiry into Democratic charges of irregularities in Michigan's recent senatorial election.

The probe of the race—in which Republican Congressman Charles E. Potter defeated Democratic Senator Blair Moody by 44,936 votes in the official canvass announced today—was ordered by the Senate elections subcommittee in Washington.

Smoke Screen Charged
The committee of two Democrats and one Republican acted yesterday after receiving a letter from Michigan Democratic Chairman Neil Staebler. It also made public for the first time some of the charges in Staebler's 14-page letter.

Staebler contended that "the recorded Democratic vote represents only a portion of the Democratic vote that could and should have been recorded."

Potter declined any comment on the investigation. However, State Republican Chairman Owen J. Cleary told a GOP rally in Saginaw "that the investigation was an attempt on the part of the Democrats to steal the Senate seat of Sen. Charles E. Potter."

He also charged that the investigation was an attempt "to smoke-screen" the GOP's plans for a recount in the close Michigan gubernatorial election where Democratic Governor Williams holds a small edge over Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr.

Boards Criticized
In Washington, Moody told newsmen:

"As a participant in the election, I will naturally be interested in what the investigators find."

The inquiry was announced by the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.). The other members, Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) and Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.) also voted for the probe.

Hennings said Staebler listed these alleged irregularities:

Rioters Moved To Marquette

JACKSON (AP) — Three long term convicts blamed in part for Tuesday's riot at Southern Michigan Prison have been transferred to Marquette Prison.

Warden William H. Bannan announced the transfers Wednesday. He said the three and three other convicts were responsible for the riot which began as a wholesale escape plot.

The three were William Lamerato, 34, named as Michigan's most wanted criminal until his arrest last March; Donald L. McDowell, 37, already serving time for one prison escape; and Harold A. Katt, 22, serving a four to 15 year burglary sentence from Monroe County.

Bannan said the three plotted with James Sacchetti, 35, serving a life sentence for murder, and two unidentified convicts in the escape plot which led to Tuesday's riot—the third within a year at Southern Michigan.

The big prison went back to normal operations today. Officials estimated damage inflicted on the prison during the spree at $2,000.

Bannan theorized that the escape plot, timed to break with the feeding of convicts Tuesday afternoon, failed when Lamerato was placed in solitary confinement following a tip that the plot was being planned.

Lamerato, who twice escaped from police under gunfire, was described by prison officials as the leader of the escape plot. They said the planned break apparently failed for lack of leadership.

With Deer Hunters --- Camp And Trail News

Colder weather that brought an end to an unseasonable rainy spell encouraged deer hunters in the Escanaba area, who took to the woods again after staying at home or in camp because of the wet weather.

The Escanaba Red Jacket Jamboree's Big Buck Derby is drawing a heavy registration as the season advances. So far no entries have been received in Big Buck Derby, perhaps because the hunters are not aware of the contest.

Valuable merchandise awards will be presented to the winners in both of the Derby divisions Saturday night, Nov. 22.

Cancel Square Dance

The square dance for hunters scheduled to be held tonight in the street near the Chicago & North Western Railroad station has been cancelled. It was announced today by John Gannon, chairman of the square dance committee for the Red Jacket Jamboree.

Registration of bucks and bear for the Derby contest is at the intersection of Stevenson Avenue and Third Avenue North.

To noon today there were over 50 bucks registered there, the largest weighing 220 pounds. It was bagged by Carl L. Bennett of Wausau, Wis., formerly of Escanaba.

The Buck and Bear Derby contest will close at 8 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 22, and prizes for the biggest and smallest buck and the buck with the largest rack of horns will be awarded. There will also be a prize for the largest bear—if one is brought in and registered before the 8 p. m. Saturday deadline.

As consolation prize the merchants of North Escanaba will present a pig to a "lucky" hunter from outside the city of Escanaba.

Successful hunters at Butler's Beach, Isabella, include Joe Funke, East Detroit, an eight pointer; Frank Turner and Alfred Balueg, both of Caro, Turner got a six pointer and Balueg a four pointer. Hunters from Blue Island, Ill.; Frankfort, Detroit and Caro are hunting there.

Jack Majestic, Chicago, got both a deer and a bear while hunting near Ensign yesterday. The deer was an eight-pointer, weighing 180 pounds. The bear weighed 450 pounds. Jack combined a visit with his brother, Matt, with a hunting trip.

Four Deny Charge Of 'Shining' Deer

Pleas of not guilty were entered in Justice A. J. Kela's court at Gwinn last night by four men charged with using an artificial light in an attempt to hunt and kill deer.

They are Jerome DeBacker, Lawrence Bussineau and Arthur North of Cornell Rte. 1, and Pat DeBacker of Rock.

On the plea of not guilty to court tentatively scheduled trial Nov. 28 and released the men on bonds of $50 each.

Jerome DeBacker, also charged with the possession of four male deer without the proper seal attached, pleaded not guilty and also is scheduled for trial Nov. 28.

The four were arrested Friday night, Nov. 14, the night before the deer season opened, by conservation officers and State Police of the Marquette detachment.

On Nov. 15 the officers found four buck deer in a hay stack on the Jerome DeBacker farm, which led to the second charge against him.

Letters To The Editor

Keep Christ In Christmas
Dear Sir:
Through the medium of the Escanaba Daily Press, I am sure, that generous support can be had in making the fact known, that December 25th is Christmas. Too many times, the ugly abbreviation, "X-mas" shows its head. CHRIST can not—and never will be replaced by an "X". Illiterate people use "X" for a signature. Such can not be the case, when it comes to December 25th. Join in the crusade to use CHRIST in the holiday. Without CHRIST, we could have no CHRISTMAS. It is his birthday—so let's keep Christ in CHRISTMAS!
Sincerely
Milton Bloomquist

Farmers Ship 175 Carloads Of Hay To South

Delta county farmers have shipped 175 carloads of hay—about 2,550 tons—to farmers in drought-stricken areas of six southern states since Sept. 2. Frank J. Brander, county PMA committee chairman, reports.

The hay, supplied by farmers from all sections of the county, was shipped by railroad cars to points in Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma, Georgia, Arkansas and Texas, to aid farmers in those drought-affected areas in maintaining their livestock and dairy herds.

Receive $24-$20 Per Ton

Serious drought in parts or all of the 10 states of the South this summer materially reduced production of feed crops, and many farmers were forced to buy the feed needed to carry their herds through the winter from more fortunate areas in the Midwest.

Prices being received by the Delta county farmers for their hay range from $24 a ton for legume hay, $20 for mixed hay and $18 for timothy and other grasses of good feeding quality, Brander stated. Southern farmers pay from $36 to $28 for this hay on the unloading dock. Freight and other handling charges more than exceed the difference between the costs in Michigan and down South.

The difference is paid by the U. S. Department of Agriculture from a special disaster aid fund of $8 million established by President Truman to carry out the emergency hay program.

Under the set-up, farmers in the drought areas place orders with their county PMA (Production Marketing Administration) committees for quantities and kind of hay needed. These orders are then forwarded to the Chicago Commodity Credit Corporation office. This office places the orders through the state PMA agency to the county PMA committees. Orders are subsequently filled by purchases made from farmers by the county committees and local PMA officials and shipment is made as directed by the Chicago commodity office.

County's Portion 3 Per Cent

Through Nov. 10 farmers in 10 southern states had placed orders for 479,274 tons. The largest order came from Texas where livestock dealers and dairy farmers needed 192,274 tons. Orders placed by other states were: 78,435 from Tennessee, 77,347 from Oklahoma, 38,902 tons from Kentucky, and lesser amounts from Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, Arkansas and Missouri.

All of these orders have been filled with PMA committees in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan, on the basis of estimates of surplus stock in those states.

Michigan's allotment of buying orders through Nov. 10 amounted to 75,203 tons, of which about 3 per cent has been filled by Delta county. Shipments are continuing to be made here.

It has been decided that the lion will go to the Ardmore, Okla. zoo.

Canvassers Certify Election Results, Delay On Governor

LANSING (P) — The State Board of Canvassers will meet tomorrow, instead of next Wednesday, to certify all the winners in the Nov. 4 general election, except the governorship.

Out of courtesy to Gov. Williams and his Republican opponent, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., the board will delay certification of the winner in the governor's race until Wednesday.

Both Alger and Williams went off on southern vacations with the understanding no decision would be made on their race until they returned. They are due back early next week.

Alger 8,618 Behind

The board's final report will show that Williams defeated Alger by 8,618 votes. The vote was Williams 1,423,275 and Alger 1,431,893. Other canvass figures:

Cong. Charles E. Potter, Republican, defeated U. S. Senator Blair Moody, Democrat, by 44,936 votes, the totals being Potter 1,428,352 and Moody 1,383,416.

For lieutenant governor, Clarence A. Reid, Republican, won by 89,212 votes over John W. Connolly, Democrat. The vote: Reid 1,430,510 and Connolly 1,341,298.

For secretary of state, Owen J. Cleary, Republican, defeated Earl S. McAllister, Democrat, by 133,975 votes, the totals being: Cleary 1,446,348 and McAllister 1,312,373.

Attorney General Frank G. Millard, Republican, was re-elected over John T. Damm, Democrat, 1,463,370 to 1,293,426, a margin of 169,944.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Republican, was re-elected by a margin of 146,580 over William L. Johnson, the vote being: Brake 1,450,337, Johnson 1,303,755.

St. Joe School Has Book Week

St. Joseph School here will climax its observance of National Book Week with an assembly Friday afternoon, during which a prize-winning essay on "Reading Is Fun" will be read.

Awards for the essay, and for two other contests conducted at the school, will be made at the Friday assembly. Separate contests in guessing the names of 24 fiction characters are being conducted in the grade and high school, under auspices of the National Children's Book Council. The essay contest on the book week theme closed Wednesday.

The St. Joseph Glee Club, under direction of Sister Mary Cedella, will sing a gypsy choral fantasy during the special book week assembly.

Recently, numerous new books were obtained for the children's library at St. Joseph school by the Home and School Association, and more are on order. New books also have been ordered for the high school library, Sister Mary Cornelius, principal, announced.

Members of the Glee Club, which is planning an operetta Dec. 21, are as follows:

Sopranos—Joan Ferrari, Elaine Snow, Anne Geigel, Joyce Winling,

County Contract System Of Road Maintenance Wins Full Support

THE Michigan Committee for Government Reorganization, the so-called Little Hoover Commission, has completed its study of the Michigan State Highway Department and has given its endorsement to the county contract system as efficient and in the best interests of the taxpayers.

The county contract system was restored by Republican commissioners after a change of administration a few years ago. Previously under Democratic rule, the State Highway Department operated its own trucks, garages, equipment, etc., for highway maintenance, duplicating in most cases the facilities of the county highway departments.

The taxpayers are the beneficiaries of this system and the motorists are getting a better break, too, because there is no backtracking necessary during snow removal projects.

The non-partisan Citizens Committee has endorsed this system because their survey has shown that it is the best plan for Michigan road maintenance at both the state and local level.

Low Wage No Cause For Robbing The Till

A bank employee who embezzled $7500 from his bank got off scot free the other day because the judge said the bank failed to pay the fellow a fair wage.

The evidence supports the contention that the bank did not pay the cashier a fair wage during the period in which he dipped into the till.

Nevertheless, we cannot agree with the viewpoint of the judge that a bank employee—or an employee of any other business or service institution—is justified in robbing his employer if the boss fails to pay a wage unsatisfactory to the employee. After all, the employee could quit his job and get something better.

Honesty is not a virtue that can be cast aside on pretense or mere whim. A really honest individual would not have embezzled bank funds simply because he felt the bank was unfair to him in the wages paid.

It is undoubtedly true, in this case, at least, that the low wage paid the cashier prompted the embezzlement and the judge's tongue lashing to the bank officials may have been deserved. Nevertheless, the inclination to dishonesty was that of the bank employee. It is obvious that he was not a proper person to be entrusted with other people's money.

DEER MANAGEMENT (Marinette Eagle Star)

Efforts to manage the deer herd such as Wisconsin made in its several any-deer seasons have been widespread in the deer states of the nation. Michigan will have the experience in the north half of the Lower Peninsula this coming season when the shooting of any deer will be legal the last three days.

Massachusetts hunters annually harvest about 25 per cent of the deer crop and in that state the shooting of antlerless deer has been legal since 1910. The state has a low winter loss of deer, but the continual cropping of surplus deer keeps the winter food supply at the proper level.

Since 1936 Minnesota has had a one-deer season every year except three when there were no open seasons on deer. The kill varied from 33,633 in 1938 to a high of 93,396 in 1946. In 1943 Wisconsin had a special four-day open season on antlerless deer in part of the state following a four-day buck season. A total of 128,200 deer were killed in contrast to the previous all-time high of 45,400 the year before. Only two years later, with only bucks legal targets, a new high buck kill of 55,300 was attained.

In Colorado, under conditions made favorable by good range and protection, deer and elk populations showed remarkable increases from 1912 to 1929. By 1940 open seasons had been declared on both species on an either sex basis. From 1945 to 1949 hunting season and regulations on deer were progressively relaxed. By 1949 the state had an any-deer season for the entire state and a two-deer limit in about a third of the range.

Colorado's game management chief commented that it was amazing how the herds have responded to fall thinning. In every area where there was a two-deer limit three years ago there has been an increase in fawn production.

Effective thinking by way of an adequate harvest, and not starvation which makes the young, means a healthy breeding stock, bigger deer, and more young. That is the answer to sound deer management.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower has received two invitations to visit Latin America and is considering the possibility of making a good-neighbor trip there before his inauguration Jan. 20.

The two invitations are from Mexico and Chile, both among the few remaining democracies in the western hemisphere. Though Chile is now under the presidency of General Ibanez, he was elected in a free election and has shown no tendencies toward dictatorship, though he staged an anti-U. S. A. campaign to get elected. The Eisenhower trip would help to melt Ibanez' frigidify.

If Eisenhower makes the pilgrimage, he would follow in the footsteps of Herbert Hoover who made a good-will tour of Latin America between the period of his election and inauguration.

Some of Ike's advisers urge that since Latin Americans generally hoped Stevenson would be elected, he should go; thus dispelling Latin-American predictions of a return to isolationist imperialism under the Republicans.

FRICITION AMONG DEMOCRATS

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas will be the new leader of Senate Democrats all right, but some Democratic senators aren't at all happy about it. They figure that "Lyn-Down," as he is nicknamed, will follow a pro-Republican line and there won't be much Democratic opposition to GOP policies.

What Senator Johnson did to ensure his selection was to start a telephone barrage the day after election to line up votes for himself. When freshmen senators such as "Scoop" Jackson of Washington and Mike Mansfield of Montana were pressured by Lyndon there wasn't much they could say except that they would support him.

Later, Mansfield was asked by an older Southern Senator why he had been stampeded into endorsing Johnson. The new senator from Montana didn't have much of an answer.

"Don't you think it's healthy to have Texans leading the party in both houses of congress—Sam Rayburn in the House and Johnson in the Senate?" Mansfield was asked.

"I thought Lyndon was Sam Rayburn's boy," Mansfield replied. "And if there's anything I can ever do to repay Rayburn for the favors he's done me I'd like to do it."

Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Guy Gillette of Iowa tried to organize opposition to Johnson with Gillette urging Senator Lister Hill of Alabama to become minority leader. Senator Pastore of Rhode Island also urged Senator Clements of Kentucky to serve.

When Senator Fulbright of Arkansas sounded out Lister Hill, however, the Alabama senator replied:

"No, sir. I had enough of being Senate leader. If Lyndon wants that job let him have it."

"I don't know but what he's making an awful mistake, though," philosophized Hill. "He's up for re-election two years from now and look what's happened to McFarland in Arizona and what happened to Scott Lucas in Illinois."

"Every Democratic leader of the Senate of late has been defeated. And it's bound to happen again. For the man who's Senate leader just hasn't got the time to give to his own state. So folks back home turn him out when his term is up."

"No sir," concluded Hill, "if Lyndon wants that job, let him have it."

TRUMAN AND ADLAI

It isn't supposed to be known, but Governor Stevenson will come to Washington on or about Dec. 1 to spend an evening with President Truman and chart the future course of the Democratic party.

Truman will pretty much turn over the party to Stevenson at that time. One thing they will discuss is the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee, now in the hands of Stevenson's former law associate, Stephen Mitchell. There are a lot of divergent views among Democrats as to what lost them the election, but one thing they all agree on is that Mitchell didn't help.

Mitchell did not call one meeting of the Democratic National Committee during the campaign, though urged to do so repeatedly. He would not even call regional meetings. He antagonized so many local leaders that many refused even to call him on the phone.

Stevenson may insist on keeping Mitchell, but Truman and everyone around him will urge that he be eased out.

Danger---Men Working

The Jet-Age Race:

Britain's Jet Transport Boom Encouraged By U. S. Timidity

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — America's failure to grasp the significance of the British development of commercial jet air transports and get into the field earlier is due to several complicated reasons.

U. S. plane makers were reluctant to launch a $30 million project—the estimated cost of developing their own prototype—which could wreck their highly profitable business of selling piston-engine transports.

They have been saying, and continue to say today, that their lead in the production of jet military planes would put them in a position to step into the jet commercial field anytime. This hasn't proved true, however, and doesn't look like it is going to for the future.

A finger can also be pointed at congress. During the past four years it has refused to put up the money, either to Civil Aeronautics Authority or to private firms, to finance the development of jet or turbo-prop prototypes.

Some of the private firms even opposed this idea, afraid of the strings which might be tied to the deal by the government. And the Air Force spoke against such a plan claiming that it did not want any effort diverted from the development of military jets.

The Air Force must assume additional blame for the lag in the development of turbo-prop engines. The turbo-prop makes a plane considerably faster than a regular piston-engine and uses fuel much more economically than the pure jet.

The Navy carried the ball alone in the U. S. on this project, seeing it as the perfect interim engine and one with many special uses. But the Navy alone couldn't put in enough effort to make turbo-jets usable for transports today, although it is now working hard on that problem.

As big as any factor in America's lag is the timid approach which the manufacturers and the airlines have made to some of the special problems of commercial jet flying. They have debated endlessly whether or not passengers would like to fly in jets, how to handle the special problems of air traffic control, and whether or not the jet would be economical.

While the debate has increased in intensity in this country, the British have boldly proved that the passengers love flying in jets, that there are no air traffic problems which are insurmountable and that the jet is economical.

In a recent forum on the subject sponsored by Skyways magazine, Hall H. Hibbard, vice president of Lockheed said:

"E tiredly too much is being said about all the difficulties of building a jet transport: Douglas has a DC-8 in fuselage mock-up state which isn't expected to fly before 1958 which will carry 70 to 100 passengers at a cruising speed of 560 mph. It also has put turbo-prop engines on one of its giant Globemasters for expected tests soon in the neighborhood of 400 mph.

Lockheed expects to fly one of its Constellations next Summer which will be equipped with four turbo-prop engines. There's no speed estimate. The firm also has a four-engine straight jet transport being readied for flight late next year.

Boeing is working on an 80-passenger four-engine jet plane expected to cruise at 550 mph, which will fly in 1958. And the Allison company has been experimenting with turbo-prop engines on a twin-engine Convair 240 for many months.

With this progress it's the belief of C. R. Smith of American Airlines that America won't see jets on domestic lines until 1958. Meanwhile, with the help of the British, other foreign lines are expected to be well into the jet field by the end of 1953. De Havilland expects to have produced the equivalent of 100 Comets by the end of this year. And it has a second assembly line in Belfast, Northern Ireland, about to get into mass production.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

GRAY WEATHER — Residents of the Upper Peninsula have in the past several days experienced some of the gloomiest weather outside of smoke-filled back room at a political convention.

The sky was what is described by the novelists as "leaden" while fog and rain clamped a shadowing hand across the landscape.

But there are other sections of the world where shadows are deeper and more enduring, according to Kare Birkelund of Rjukan, Norway, who is observing the Manistiquie school system as part of his studies in language teaching in America.

"In my home town in Norway the sun never reaches the bottom of the deep valley for five or six months of the year," Birkelund told the Escanaba Rotary Club at a recent appearance.

Only difference in the comparison is that at Rjukan the residents can ski up the slope at the end of the valley to emerge into the sun for winter sports when they wish.

HOW THEY MET—Birkelund was introduced by Carl Olson, principal of the Manistiquie High School, while he was visiting relatives in Scandinavia last summer.

Actually the visit was to Sweden, where Olson's parents were born, but he met Birkelund at the dock when the steamer sailed for the United States.

"I was standing on the boat, my violin in one hand, a bouquet of flowers and a bag of Swedish cookies in my other hand, and my camera suspended around my neck, when I thought that I should take a picture of my uncles and aunts and other relatives standing on the dock," Olson recalled.

In his best Swedish, therefore, Olson turned to a tall, blond young man standing at his side and politely requested him to hold his violin, flowers and cookies.

"Certainly, I shall be most happy to oblige," replied Birkelund in his best English.

This episode led to friendship and Olson's invitation to Birkelund to visit him in Manistiquie when he had the opportunity.

A TEACHER'S PRAISE—The opportunity came when Birkelund, one of a group of 25 English language teachers in foreign countries, arrived in Michigan to study language teaching methods at University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Birkelund has high praise for the University's method of teaching languages. He knows whereof he speaks, for in Norway he is a lecturer or language specialist in the high school at Rjukan. In Norwegian high schools three foreign languages—French, German and English—are required for all students.

THE OTHER FOOT—After the Rotary Club meeting Rotarians John Greene and Jay Niver, among others, came up to talk to Birkelund.

Greene commented that perhaps some way might be found to interest more Americans in learning foreign languages, but Birkelund said he believes that is not too important—for the tendency in our country is to recognize English as a world language.

The self-criticism still holds, however, for it earnestly felt that Americans who travel to foreign countries could become emissaries of goodwill by having at least a conversational knowledge of the language of the people they will meet.

Certainly it was a pleasure to hear Kare Birkelund speak fluent and expressive English.

HARDY PEOPLE—Sitting at the same table with Birkelund during the Rotary luncheon was the Rev. Otto Steen of Escanaba, who has more than the usual interest in Norway, for he was born there.

Birkelund's recounting of the hardy Norwegians who successfully opposed the German army of occupation during World War II is a story that will never be forgotten. The Norwegians, despite the infamy of traitor Quisling, by resistance defeated the conquering Nazis.

Today all of the Scandinavian countries are recovering from the effects of war. And it was Carl Olson who paid tribute to hardy Norway in a reference to the good food he had enjoyed on his visit to Sweden.

"Swedish cooking is wonderful—and second best to Norwegian cooking!"

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

When do you infer something, and when do you imply something? I regret to say that many youngsters who have gone through high school, and many oldsters too, are never quite sure when to use one and when to use the other. Let me see whether I can find a way to make the preferred usage easier.

ImPLY has the same source as the word ply, a fold. Two-ply means two folds or layers; three-ply, three folds. Thus imply, from Latin implicare, means to fold in, or, in other words, to wrap up. Therefore, when you imply a compliment for example, you don't come straight out with it, you wrap it up delicately enough so that the folds must be opened to find it. That is, you express your thought indirectly, you hint at your meaning without saying it in so many words.

When a young man whistles expressively as a pretty girl passes, he implies that she is attractive in his eyes. When mother says, "Son, you're not ready for dinner yet," she implies that his hands are dirty and his hair unbrushed. A man kissing his wife implies that she is still his sweetheart. The ideas are folded up in the words or the actions.

The stem of infer, like that of defer, confer, refer, is Latin fero, to bring, carry, bear. To infer when first used in English, meant to bring, carry or bear in or into, but was early set aside to mean to draw as a conclusion from something that was implied or known.

Perhaps I should add that infer has often and long been used as if it had the same meaning as imply; as, "From your silence, consent is inferred." Such usage is recognized by most dictionaries, but is condemned by others.

Competition Returns To British Gasoline

AN interesting sidelight on the enormous difference between a free competitive economy and a controlled, politically-bossed economy is found in a New York Times news item concerning a change in the British government's policy on selling gasoline.

There has been no competition in the sale of gas in England since 1939—all of it has been marketed under a pool arrangement. The new policy will mark a return to competition so far as premium grades are concerned. Brand names will be authorized and the consumer will again have the right to take his pick.

The Times story said, "Now that competition is about to be reintroduced, the oil companies have started courses in training their employees in service and courtesy." The inference here is certainly plain. In the absence of competition, there is no need for service or courtesy—and if the customer doesn't like it he can lump it.

This also provides a revealing contrast with the way gas and other oil products are sold in the U. S. When the customer drives in his windshield is cleaned, his tires are inflated, his battery is checked, and it's all done with a smile. If a dealer fails to come up to scratch, he soon finds that the cars are going right by instead of driving in.

This is true throughout all American industry, big and little. Competition forces enterprise to give up what we want, when we want it, at a fair price.

Present Psoriasis Remedies Bring Only Temporary Relief

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

It is really a most discouraging thing to have to write about certain diseases year after year, and to say that no great progress has been made in conquering them. Among such conditions is a disease of the skin known as psoriasis, pronounced with the "p" silent.

In this common skin disease the lesions are most frequent at or about the elbows, knees, and in the scalp and lower back. Although the skin is disfigured, the disease is not dangerous to life or general health. The involved areas are usually bright red, level with the skin surface, and scaly. There is a sharp dividing line between the normal skin and that which is affected by the disease.

When psoriasis starts suddenly, severe itching is common. In the more chronic cases (which are most frequent) there is little or no itching. These portions of the skin which have been involved for a long time generally become covered with a thick scale. If this scale is scraped off, tiny points of bleeding appear underneath.

Unfortunately, the cause of psoriasis, like so many diseases of the skin, is not known.

The condition frequently comes in several members of the same family and this familiar tendency has been noted by many students of the disease.

Also, psoriasis is frequently associated with certain kinds of arthritis, though just what the connection is when they occur together has aroused difference of opinion. Persons between 10 and 30 years old are the most likely to be attacked. The cause is almost certainly not an infection. There is also a tendency for the skin lesions of psoriasis to come and go over a period of time.

MAY WORSEN AGAIN

Many treatments are being used for psoriasis. Most of them bring about good results, at least temporarily. However, it is all too common for people with psoriasis to get better for a time after treatment and then to get worse again, and if the same treatment is tried again, they often do not respond at all.

Many studies of this disease are going on and it would be strange indeed if some fine new treatment is not found within a few years.

Cosmos Club Has Ritz Quarters

WASHINGTON—Relaxing somewhat gingerly into unaccustomed luxury, the distinguished members of "America's Choicest Club"—Washington's Cosmos Club—are gradually accepting their new location in Massachusetts Avenue's embassy row gold coast.

The naturally modest members of the Cosmos Club have no desire for collective publicity, but the club roll reads like a "Who's Who" of American science, literature, and public service. A lunchtime visitor with bad taste could stare himself dizzy at the bearers of headline names accepted as a matter of course.

Among the early members were Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, and Admiral Robert E. Peary. Not least among Cosmos Club distinctions was the founding of the National Geographic Society within its walls.

Founded in 1878
The Cosmos Club was founded in 1878 by a group of "scientific men resident in Washington" who needed a gathering place for themselves and those with similar interests. The first organization meeting was held in the home of Major John Wesley Powell, who lost an arm at the battle of Shiloh and later achieved more fame as surveyor of the Grand Canyon.

Membership at the outset was limited to 200, as compared to 2,000 at present, and the gentlemen were easily accommodated in three rented rooms in the old Corcoran building, across the street from the United States Treasury.
In 1881 the club's board of management expressed satisfaction with the Corcoran building rooms and "strongly" recommended "staying where we are for the present." But the very next year the board changed its mind and larger quarters were obtained in a rented house on Lafayette Square, diagonally across from the White House.

Dolly Madison House
In further expansion the club progressively obtained adjoining buildings, including the famous house at the corner of H Street and Madison Place, the "Dolly Madison House." This unmatched assortment of adjacent buildings, augmented by a new auditorium, served the club well. Only the pressure of an expanding Federal Government in need of office space could cause a move, and it did. A few years ago the Government bought the property for a million dollars.

There was much dignified, debate over selection of a new site, and much sorrow at leaving the well-worn comfort of Lafayette Square. It was finally decided that Cosmos would purchase the magnificent French renaissance mansion erected on Massachusetts avenue at the turn of the century by Richard H. Townsend, and later the property of the late Mrs. Sumner Welles.

The move finally was made this autumn, and gradually the members are accepting the new building, with its marble-trimmed stairways, satiny paneling and gold and ivory lounge. It will take long occupancy to rub off the magnificence and restore the unpretentious comfort of the old club.

'Hidden' Diabetics Hunted By Science

By FRANK CAREY
Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A medical manhunt is on this week—to find more than one million Americans believed to have diabetes without knowing it.

You could be in peril if you actually have the disease and it's left untreated. If you are found your disease can quickly be brought under control with insulin and proper diet, sometimes diet alone.

Free Tests Offered

A small army of doctors and volunteer workers will be on a special hunt for "hidden" diabetics all this week, which is known as Diabetes Week, sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

Many of them will offer free urine tests for excessive sugar, usually a reliable means of detecting diabetes.

Collection stations, where urine samples can be left, have been set up in many of the 700 counties which have established formal programs. Drugstores, public schools and firehouses have been designated for that purpose in some communities.

The American Diabetes Association ADA, a nonprofit organization of doctors and laymen especially interested in diabetes detection, treatment and education says that whether the tests are offered without charge is left entirely to local medical authorities.

Danger Signals Given

Medical authorities in 31 of the 48 states have organized state-wide detection and education programs. The ADA estimates about one million diabetics now are under treatment and that another million persons have diabetes without knowing it.

Still another two million Americans at any one time are believed to have a potential for developing the disease sometime during their lives.

People who are overweight are among likely candidates—especially if there's a history of diabetes in the family. Excessive thirst, frequent urination and excessive hunger are among danger signals.

Wage Board Punishes Employee Overpayment

NEW YORK (AP)—Four firms in the New York area that paid their employees too much, were penalized $11,217 in tax disallowances, reports the regional office of the Wage Stabilization Board.

More drastic penalties would have been imposed, said a board official, had not the companies shown willingness to co-operate once their unauthorized wage schedules had been uncovered by investigators of Wage and Hour Division of the Federal Department of Labor.

Case Of Diabetes Easily Overlooked

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—You and your doctor should always be alert to the possibility you have diabetes. It's rather easy to detect it by urine and blood tests, but diabetes experts say it can also be easily overlooked because it can underlie virtually any symptom of human disorder—from constipation to diarrhea, from excessive appetite to indigestion, from high blood pressure to eye trouble, from itching to overeating, from overweight to underweight.

Can Be Controlled

While there is as yet no known cure for it, the ailment can be effectively controlled—sometimes by proper diet alone, but almost surely by a combination of diet and regular doses of insulin.

The more quickly control is established, the better the diabetic's chances of avoiding the serious complications which account for most of the deaths from this disease—No. 8 among the causes of death from sickness in America.

These complications include diabetic "coma," hardening of the arteries, gangrene and a proneness to various infectious diseases, including tuberculosis.

Watch For Symptoms

You yourself can be on the alert for such early signs of diabetes as these in yourself or your children:

- Excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger even though eating quite a bit, a sudden drop in weight.

Sometimes diabetes can be present even though none of these signs appear so experts advise you to see your doctor and ask him about the possibility of diabetes if:

1. There has ever been diabetes in your family.
2. If you have any kind of vague complaint, including weakness.
3. If you have been overeating and have been overweight for some time. Although a sudden drop in weight is often a sign of diabetes, overweight is considered to be a contributory cause of the ailment, especially in adults.

Free Test Offered

This week you have an especially good chance to get at least a tipoff on whether you have diabetes.

The American Diabetes Association (ADA) is sponsoring Diabetes Week, designed primarily to detect an estimated more than one million Americans who have diabetes but don't know it. Special opportunities have been provided in more than 700 counties throughout the nation to enable people to get a urine test for diabetes in most places without charge.

A urine test is not infallible, but it can raise strong suspicions which can then be confirmed by a usually sure-fire blood test.

U-M Requests Higher Budget For 1953-54

ANN ARBOR—Appropriation of $20,631,233 for operating expenses during the 1953-54 fiscal year is being sought from the state by the University of Michigan.

The appropriation request is in the hands of the Budget Division of the Department of Administration at Lansing. The appropriation would be used along with an anticipated $5,600,000 from student fees and other income to finance a General Funds budget of $26,231,233 as approved by the University's Regents, President Harlan Hatcher said.

The 1953-54 request for state funds is $3,694,583 more than the current appropriation provided by the Legislature and the proposed General Funds budget is $4,006,083 higher than the 1952-53 operating budget.

Reasons For Increase

Two major reasons for the bigger budget in 1953-54 were cited by Dr. Hatcher:

1. Increases, since the current year's appropriations, in cost of living, higher prices on commodities which the University must buy, increases in freight and utility rates and higher salary and wage levels in Michigan and in the nation.

2. Enrollment of resident credit students has stabilized at the 17,000 mark rather than the 16,000 figure used in estimating budgets for the past two years. Freshmen enrollment is up 30 per cent this fall with prospects of this large class being maintained at this level or above for the coming years.

"The leveling off of our enrollment at 17,000 resident students, and this figure does not include evening classes and extension credit courses, means that our teaching staff must be enlarged to meet the increased enrollment," the University president said. He noted that supplementing the 17,000 enrollment are evening classes in Ann Arbor and other communities with a total of 3000 students taking extension credit; and another 5500 persons in these courses taking work not organized for credit, or a total class load this semester of 25,500.

Dr. Hatcher also pointed out that of the 17,000 regular resident credit students, about 7000 are in the high-cost graduate and graduate professional programs. This number is just as large as in the peak post-war years when the regular enrollment was 21,000 resident credit students.

Payroll Is Larger

Seven items have contributed to the increased cost of operations as estimated for 1953-54:

(1) Payroll increases, $1,865,000. This figure would include cost-of-living adjustments for faculty and staff, merit and other increases to meet special competitive conditions and the increased cost of related retirement and insurance programs.

(2) Price increases on consumable supplies and materials, $289,500.

(3) Instructional costs for 50 additional Medical School students admitted in 1951, $150,000. Michigan now admits more first-year medical students than any other university in the country.

(4) Increases in staff and instructional materials and replacement of obsolete equipment, $985,389. The addition of 41 teachers, plus a moderate amount of non-academic and hourly help, will require $349,400. Additional instructional supplies will require $120,361 and replacement of obsolete educational equipment and modernization of several classrooms and laboratories will cost $329,947. Additional services and supplies in the libraries are expected to cost $57,710 while $127,931 is required to cover the increased needs for faculty research, research units and museums.

(5) Increase in student services and student counseling, $233,135. Of this item, $11,135 is for additional supplies and allocations needed for student services and new buildings for which janitor and building maintenance service must be provided.

"We must face the fact that a continued expansion of University facilities to meet the prospective steady growth in enrollment must be the firm and considered policy in the administration of the University," President Hatcher asserted. He noted also that the "time schedule" of increased enrollments predicted by all educators and statisticians, based on birth rates and population factors, is upon the state ahead of former expectations. "It was in recognition of this basic policy that the Regents approved a total operating budget of $26,231,233 for 1953-54," Dr. Hatcher explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wolf Sr., of Ensign, Mich., has been serving in Korea with the 1st Field Artillery Observation Battalion, which recently was awarded the Meritorious Unit Citation.

His unit, the only one of its kind in Korea, was cited for outstanding service between August 1950 and April 1952 in locating enemy artillery positions with sound, flash and radar equipment.

Wolf, serving as an aidman in the battalion's Medical Detachment, holds the Korean and United Nations Service Ribbons. A graduate of Michigan State College, he entered the Army in September 1951 and arrived in Korea last April.

Even Turkeys Have Changed Since First Thanksgiving

Getting ready for Thanksgiving is a lot easier today than it was when the first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated 331 years ago in a bleak, New England wilderness.

Preparing the Thanksgiving meal in the old days was a lot of hard work for those pioneer housewives. They had to gather pumpkins from the fields, berries from wilderness patches, wild fruits from the woods, grind their own corn for cornbread stuffing—and probably dig their own potatoes.

But the toughest job was the turkey, even though wild turkeys abounded in the nearby forests. The wild turkey was a bony, long-legged creature with a gamy flavor that wouldn't suit present day palates. It had so little meat and was so light it was capable of flying long distances. Picking and cleaning one was a big job in itself.

Record Turkey Crop
The housewife today has it all over her Pilgrim ancestors. She can buy the makings of the entire holiday feast at her favorite market, including a turkey that has been scientifically bred and developed to fit modern tastes and pocketbooks. Turkeys now being grown have little resemblance to their wilderness counterparts. They are compact, tender, broad-breasted birds designed to fit ovens as well as appetites.

While turkey has been the traditional Thanksgiving and Christmas bird through the years, it was only in the last quarter-century, that year-round demand has grown continuously. This year's crop, estimated at 59 million birds, has exceeded all previous records. The average American now eats twice as much turkey as he did a dozen years ago. In the years between 1935-39, per capita consumption of turkey was 2.6 pounds as compared to 5.6 pounds estimated for 1952.

Development of smaller turkeys is responsible for a growing share of the year-round volume. Advent of the broad-breasted turkey in the 1930's set off a miracle in the turkey industry which has grown to a multi-million dollar business. It also revealed the possibilities of improving meat-type chickens.

And Now—Turkeyburger!
Most housewives are beginning to realize that turkeys give them more value for their food dollar. The modern turkey is highly nutritive, its meat easily digested, and because it has a greater proportion of meat to bone and other waste parts, it stretches the dollar spent on turkey a little more.

People like their turkey in different ways in different sections of the country. There is a growing trend toward ready-to-cook turkeys, both fresh and fresh frozen, especially during the holiday seasons. The armed forces are sending ready-to-cook turkeys overseas this year. Some people, particularly in New York City and the northeastern states, continue to prefer regular dressed birds.

In many markets the housewife can buy a turkey already prepared for roasting and in some stores she may buy separate parts such as breasts, second joints, drumsticks, giblets, necks and backs, and smoked turkey.

The industry also is cutting up large birds into different forms and offering them as boned-and-rolled, steaks, sandwich spreads, and white meat or dark, or both. Cooked pieces also come with a bag of gravy ready to be heated and poured over the meat.

And also available in some places is poultry's challenge to the hamburger—the turkeyburger!

Although most footballs are made of steer hide, rubber substitutes have been used recently, especially when wet weather tends to soak the leather balls.

Chatham

Leppanen Rites
CHATHAM—Funeral services for Herbert Leppanen, 19, son of Mrs. Frank Salo Jr. of Eben and John Leppanen of Chatham, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident at Plymouth, Wis., were held at 1 p. m. today, (Wednesday) at the National Lutheran Church at Chatham with the Rev. A. L. Maki of Marquette officiating. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery at Slap Neck. Pallbearers were Robert Ollila, Kenneth Nelson, Art Laakso, Fred Johnson, Bernard Takkinen and Albert Erickson.

The condition of Ronald Haavisto of Eben, a passenger in the Leppanen car, still is serious.

Recent Movie Crop Isn't Up To Snuff

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Notes and comment:
Through the eyes of this reviewer, it appears that the recent crop of movies hasn't been up to snuff. But there is hope for the future.

The film industry traditionally saves its better pictures for release in late November and December. There are two reasons for this:

1. Film business is usually healthiest during the fall holiday season.
2. Producers like to bring out their Oscar hopefuls as close to the year-end deadline as possible. The theory for the latter is that they have seen most recently.

No Yuletide Parade
So don't give up, little movie fan. Things might get better.... The boom-or-bust nature of today's film business continues to amaze veteran observers. Poor or merely good pictures fail to show a profit. But the superior movies bring in fabulous money. For instance, Herbert J. Yates, president of Republic, told me this week that "The Quiet Man" will rack up a world gross of eight million dollars. It shapes up as Republic's top grosser....

It's later than you think department: the metal Christmas trees have already gone up on Hollywood Boulevard, converting it to Santa Claus lane. But the bright stem's usual yuletide parade will be lacking this year. Like all of us, it was hit by inflation....

Laughter Canned
Quote from Joan Fontaine Feb. 1, 1952: "I've tried it (marriage) twice and it doesn't work. It's too tough trying to lead a double life as a film actress and wife."

News item, Nov. 12, 1952: Joan Fontaine weds Collier Young. Ho hum....

Female Platypus Calls Off Romance

NEW YORK — Penelope has lost interest in Cecil so their engagement is off—at least temporarily, reports the Bronx Zoo.

Penelope and Cecil are the duck-billed platypuses brought from Australia five years ago. Hale and hearty, they are the only ones in captivity anywhere in the world outside their native Australia.

Only twice before have platypus couples bred in captivity so the romantic attachment of Cecil for Penelope was looked upon with great interest and fondest expectations.

"But Penelope," reports William Bridges, zoo curator of information, "has actively resented Cecil's overtures and shown her displeasure by rolling over and over in the water."

"This," he said, "is a characteristic sign of platypus annoyance and we had to separate them."

The haughty Penelope has been provided with a box about 2 feet square, lined with dirt. If she shows any indication of nesting, the courtship will be renewed. Cecil, it seems, is willing.

When typhoons occur north of the equator the spin always is counter-clockwise, but it is clockwise south of the equator.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause setting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Bali Dancers Will Tour U. S.

WASHINGTON—Balinese music and dancing is being presented in America this winter for the first time as 45 performers from the village of Pliatan on Indonesia's island of Bali engage in a three-month tour of the United States.

In its native setting of dusty, scented village square or temple court surrounded in "theater-in-the-round" fashion by sarong-clad audience, Balinese dancing rarely fails to impress the Western traveler, says the National Geographic Society.

Costumes Blaze of Colors
Costumes, topped by ornate head dresses in turn crowned with fresh tropical flowers, are an Oriental blaze of gold, blue, green and red. Only the most beautiful of a naturally handsome people are selected for training as dancers.

In few forms of the dance is more emphasis placed upon facial expression and movements of the arms, hands and fingers. Balinese dancing is primitive yet exquisitely refined, impersonal while still dynamic with each artist's own improvisations. In mood it can vary from quiet, stylized love duet to wild monkey dance.

Although the Balinese scale lacks the "la" of the familiar "do-re-mi," the music of the native orchestra, called gamelan, does not affront the Western ear as other Eastern music so often does. Melody as the West knows it is present, tempo is syncopated as swing. Xylophonelike percussion instruments of the gamelan are mellow. Flutes, tinkling bells, cymbals, gongs, and throbbing drums make for no American auditory shock.

Inspiration for the best of the island's music, dancing and drama—the three are inseparable—is the ancient Hindu religion of India, whence came the Balinese themselves. Originally all singing and dancing must have been temple rites, but so powerfully does his religion permeate his everyday life that he Balinese sees no sacrifice in performing in a secular setting, whether it be in the garden of a neighbor holding a private feast, or on an American stage.

Few Professionals
There are few professional dancers, singers and actors in Bali. Villages have their own gamelans and troupes of performers. They may be famous as artists, yet earn their livings as chauffeurs, rice farmers and blacksmiths.

Dancers are taught very young. In the legong—dance-pantomimes

Two Mr. Presidents Have Grim Meeting, Photographer Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nobody knows what the President of the United States and the man who will succeed him said to each other at their private meeting Tuesday, but one fellow knows what expressions they wore.

"Grim and determined," said Harvey Georges, Associated Press photographer, the third person in the White House office where Harry S. Truman and Dwight D.

Eisenhower got together for 25 minutes.

Later, he said, they smiled and shook hands for the benefit of his camera. Then Georges departed and the private talk resumed.

Georges picked out of a hat the ship that gave him admittance to the room as the lone photographer permitted at the meeting.

How did Georges address Messrs. Truman and Eisenhower? Why, "Mr. Presidents," of course.

Hurt Fawn Recovers With Amputated Leg

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—A baby deer surprised by a wheat combine was badly cut up in a Southern Illinois field. The fawn—children soon named it Bambi—was taken to a Carlyle veterinarian who saved its life.

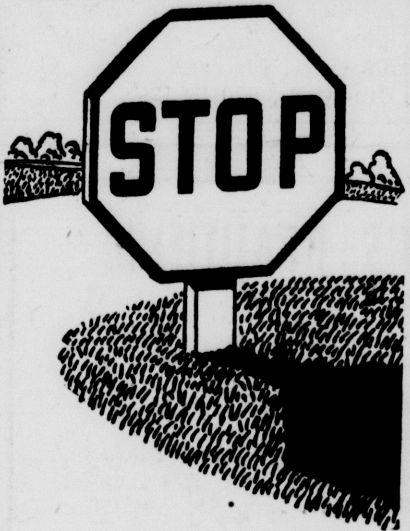

With an amputated rear leg and pitched cuts, Bambi was started on the way to recovery with a diet of baby formula.

Jeanette Roth Is The Bride Of Thomas Peltier

Miss Jeanette Beatrice Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roth of Cadott, and Thomas Peltier of Milwaukee exchanged their marriage vows Saturday, Nov. 8, at St. Joseph's Chapel in Cadott. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peltier of Escanaba.

For the double ring candlelight ceremony the bride wore a chapel gown fashioned with a lace bodice and jacket and a skirt of nylon net. A beaded lace cloche and bouquet of white chrysanthemums completed her costume. Mrs. Bennett Fox Waxse of Milwaukee, her attendant, wore green velvet with a matching hat and gauntlets. Deep lavender baby chrysanthemums formed her bouquet.

John Peltier Jr. of Escanaba was his brother's best man. DeRoy Roth of Cadott, a brother of the bride, ushered.

The reception was held in St. Joseph's Hall.

The newlyweds will live in Milwaukee. The bride is a graduate of Wisconsin State College at Eau Claire. Mr. Peltier attended the University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Anderson of Kingsford are the parents of a son, weighing 9½ pounds, born Nov. 14 at Iron Mountain. The baby, the third child and first son in the family, will be named Ronald John. Mrs. Anderson is the former Betty Fugere of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Moreau, 227 N. 10th St., are the parents of a son, Robert James, born at St. Francis Hospital Nov. 19. The baby weighed 8 pounds and 5 ounces.

A son, James Alan, who weighed 6 pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony B. Marmalick, 1302 Lake Shore, Gladstone, Nov. 18 at St. Francis Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fredrickson of Arlington Heights, Ill., are the parents of a daughter born Nov. 18. The baby who weighed six pounds at birth has a sister, Deborah. Her father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fredrickson, 312 S. 13th St., Escanaba.

AS WE LIVE

Take Legal Action To Free Self From Husband's Abuse

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Every woman marries in the belief that her life will be a happy one. How much can or should she take from the man who married her with the promise that he loved her? Should this woman tolerate any more is the question she raises:

(Q) "My husband promised me just everything if I would marry him. Night after we were married, he started complaining. He called my cooking 'garbage' in spite of the fact that I am considered a good cook. He won't give me money and if I work to make money for things I need, he makes trouble for me where I work. He drinks and when he is drunk, he calls me dreadful names. I have had three nervous breakdowns from his treatment. He gambles and has everything mortgaged. If I leave, I can't even take my wedding presents for he says he won't pay the mortgage money. I would have left him long ago but my pride held me back. Now I am at my rope's end."

(A) A time comes when even the most faithful wife can't tolerate her husband's treatment any more.

Go at once to your minister and tell him the whole story. Ask him to help you take legal action to free yourself from your husband's abuse. He can arrange through the domestic relations court for you to be free and yet to maintain yourself with the money your husband will be required to pay for your support.

Until some of the mortgage money is paid on your possessions, you may not be able to remove them from your home. The court will see to it that your possessions are released to you in time. In the meantime, live with your parents, some friends, or in a place where you can have a few of the comforts you have been denied in your own home.

It will take time to get over the terrific nervous strain you have suffered since your marriage. If your doctor feels you need a rest, don't go to work until he advises it. He may, however, feel that keeping yourself occupied with work will be an aid to your recovery.

If your husband begs you to come back, let him prove first he is changed. Go back only on trial. If he returns to persecution, leave again for good.

What IS A Girl?

Little girls are the nicest things that happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them and tho it wears thin sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart—even when they are setting in the mud or parading up the street in mother's best clothes. Girls are available in several colors, yet Mother Nature always manages to select your favorite color when you place your order. There are millions of little girls but each one is as precious as rubies.

God borrows from many creatures to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a little pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the spryness of a grasshopper, the curiosity of a cat, the slyness of a fox, and to top it all off, He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

She doesn't care much for visitors, boys in general, hand-me-downs, straight chairs, or staying in the front yard. She is loudest when you are thinking, the prettiest when she has provoked you, the busiest at bedtime, the quietest when you want her to show off.

Yes, she is a nerve-wracking nuisance, a noisy bundle of mischief. Yet when your dreams tumble down and you are feeling low and dismayed, she can make you a king when she climbs on your knee and whispers, "I love you best of all!" And then coyly, "Will you get me that pretty dress we saw at

South American Tour Described By Mrs. Reynolds

An interesting and colorful description of South American countries was given by Mrs. Lillian H. Reynolds at last evening's open meeting of the Escanaba Woman's Club in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian Church. Escanaba teachers were guests at the meeting.

Mrs. Reynolds, who, with Mrs. William L. Kennedy, spent three months on a South American tour, told in detail of the homes, the characteristics of the people and the outstanding features of the various cities she and Mrs. Kennedy visited. She commented in particular on the spirit of friendliness which greeted her and her traveling companion everywhere.

In keeping with the theme of the program the attractive table was arranged in South American fashion, with a red cloth and a centerpiece of a fruit and cactus bowl. Tiny cactus plants were favors for the guests. Mrs. John Anthony, club president, poured.

A display of lovely articles including bags and jewelry from South America and mahogany and woven materials which Mrs. Stanley Lundberg brought from Guatemala was included in the travelogue program.

Club Planning 'Ladies Night'

Plans for a "ladies night" program and dance in connection with the annual inspection visit of the district governor were made at a regular meeting of the Manistique Lions Club Tuesday evening.

The event will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, with District Governor Walter G. Wilson, of St. Ignace, as club guest. It is also expected that Angus Nault, of Newberry, past district governor, will be a guest at the session and will show motion pictures of the 1952 International Lions convention in Mexico City.

The following committee was appointed by First Vice President Earl Cox, who presided at the meeting, to make arrangements for the affair: Harold Plichta, John Raffay, Adam Heinz, Dr. E. D. Brannan and Frank M. Gierke Sr.

The club also accepted an invitation from Manistique Rotarians to join with them in extending recognition to the local high school championship football team at a banquet at the Elks building on Monday, Dec. 15.

The meeting was concluded with the showing of colored slides by Dr. E. D. Brannan covering his trip last summer to Circle, Alaska, northernmost point on the American continent which can be reached by auto.

As the slides were shown Dr. Brannan gave a running commentary on his trip and the scenes projected on the screen. Dr. and Mrs. Brannan made the trip in five weeks, traveling over 10,000 miles.

Rugged mountain terrain of the Yukon and Alaskan areas predominated in the pictures although many views showed rivers, towns and other vistas in the vast northern country.

VFW Auxiliary Fetes Gold Star Mothers Monday

Gold Star Mothers of Schoolcraft County were honored by the VFW Auxiliary at a meeting at the VFW hall, N. Maple Ave., on Monday evening.

The program included several piano selections by Mrs. Mary Arrowood; solos, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" and "Because You Are Mine," by Loren LaBrasseur, accompanied by Mrs. Loren LaBrasseur; a poem, "Not What We Have," by James Howland; a comic reading, "Strawberry Jam Pie," by Mrs. Elwood Taylor; a talk by George Drew, law minister of St. Alban's Episcopal Church; two violin solos by the Rev. Paul Sobel, accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Hall; and several accordion selections by Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor.

Lunch was served from a table decorated with a complete gold service and centered with Swedish mums accented by Swedish angel chimes on each side. The hostess committee was composed of Mrs. Albert Ackerman, Mrs. Ray Ramsden, Mrs. Charles Redeker, Mrs. Max Osterhout and Mrs. Harry Hastings.

Cards were played following lunch with prizes going to Mrs. William Barker and Mrs. Leo Dean in 500, Mrs. Ross Collier and Mrs. Peter Udell in canasta, and Mrs. Donald Dissinger and Mrs. Lorne Harding in buncie. The special award was given to Mrs. James Murphy, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., who was a guest.

Widespread use of coffee in England dates from the 17th Century.

Six More Deer Hunters Fined In Local Court

Four deer hunters were arraigned in local justice court yesterday for spotlighting deer and two for having loaded guns in their car. All were arrested by Conservation Officer Leslie Walstrom, of Seney.

Theodore Kanuzewski and Frank Liedick, both of Saginaw, were fined $20 and assessed costs of $7.50 each on a spotlighting charge. They were arrested Nov. 18 in Seney township.

Also arrested in Seney township for spotlighting were George R. Martin, of Streeter, Ill., and George Zeller, of Germfask. The two, picked up early yesterday, paid fines of $20 and costs of $7.50 each.

Martin and Zeller at first pleaded not guilty at their arraignment but shortly afterwards changed their plea.

Al Fricke, of Royal Oak, and John DeCateau, of Detroit, also paid fines of $20 and costs of $7.50 each on a charge of having loaded guns in their car. They were arrested in Seney township Nov. 18.

Schooner To Follow In Wake Of Kon-Tiki

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—Three young Navy veterans sailed off recently in their 43-foot schooner, Camarada, bent on following in the wake of the Kon-Tiki, a raft full of scientists which drifted from Chile to the South Seas.

The trio, Frank Thatcher, 26, Pat Swift, 26, and Miles Wyatt, 27, explained they would work their way down the coast, stopping at La Paz and Acapulco, Mexico, then at Panama and South American ports.

"We plan to be gone 18 to 24 months," said Thatcher, "depending on how long the money holds out." After they reach Valparaiso, Chile, they will turn west toward the Marquesas and Tahiti.

Local Clubwomen Hear Thanksgiving Message By Pastor

"Thoughts for Thanksgiving" was the topic of the Rev. A. Barton Brown, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in a talk at a regular meeting of the Manistique Women's Club Tuesday afternoon at Lakeside school.

American people, he said, should be thankful they live in the United States and should prize highly the Constitution and Bill of Rights which guarantee such things as freedom of speech and religion and freedom from want and fear. He closed his message with a prayer of Thanksgiving.

Music was provided by Mrs. Julius Settergren, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James H. Fyvie. She sang "Mighty God While Angels Bless Thee" and "My Heart Is Longing to Praise My Saviour."

Of interest to clubwomen was a display of water colors painted by J. Paul Eaton, art teacher in Manistique public schools. Scenes portrayed in the display were old landmarks, industrial settings and public buildings in Upper Peninsula towns. The exhibit will remain at the school through December.

Tea and assorted cakes were served later by the hostess committee composed of Mrs. J. C. Quick, chairman; Mrs. Omer Dybevik, Mrs. G. S. Johnson, Mrs. Charles Slinning Jr., Mrs. Dallas Creeger, Mrs. Adam Heinz and Mrs. Joseph Paull.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

WITH I CORPS IN KOREA—Army Cpl. Junior J. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Gray of Manistique, Mich., has been serving in Korea with the 1st Field Artillery Observation Battalion, which recently was awarded the Meritorious Unit Citation.

His unit, the only one of its kind in Korea, was cited for outstanding service between August 1950 and April 1952 in locating enemy artillery positions with sound, flash and radar equipment.

Corporal Gray, who holds the Korean and United Nations Service Ribbons, arrived in Korea last January and has been serving as a parts clerk in the battalion's Battery A.

A graduate of the Manistique High School, he entered the Army in February 1951.

Japanese Citizens Oppose Air Base Site

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Air Force is going to use an air base near Nara and the citizens of that ancient city of temples don't like it.

The newspaper Asahi says the citizens fear for the safety of this cradle of Japanese art and culture should war come again to Japan. Horyuji Temple, one of the most treasured of Japanese national relics, is 5 miles from the proposed base. Both Nara and Kyoto, another shrine city, were spared by U. S. bombers during the war.

Couldn't Sleep Couldn't Eat

Maybe you aren't very sick and yet you don't feel really well. Perhaps you suffer from headache, indigestion, nervousness, gas and bloating, loss of sleep or lack of appetite. Frequently these symptoms are caused by constipation. When that's the case be smart and like Mr. Peter Bothen of Chicago, take Kuriko.

Dr. Peter's KURIKO

Mr. Bothen states: "I suffered very badly from functional constipation and my bowel movements were not very regular. Since taking Kuriko when needed I feel much better. My appetite is improved and I can sleep at night. Gently and smoothly this time-proven laxative and stomachic-tonic medicine puts sluggish bowels to work and aids them to eliminate clinging waste matter; helps to get constipation's grip, gives the stomach that comforting feeling of warmth."

Kuriko's amazing effectiveness is due to a scientific formula which combines 18 (not just one or two) of nature's medicinal herbs, roots and botanicals—a secret formula perfected over a period of 50 years. For prompt, pleasant, proven relief from constipation's misery—get Dr. Peter's KURIKO today.

Talk Uniforms For GHS Band

The possibility of obtaining new uniforms for the Gladstone high school band was discussed at a meeting of the Band Boosters club held Tuesday evening at the music room in the Gladstone high school.

Present uniforms are more than 10 years old and badly in need of replacement.

Two types of uniforms can be obtained: the Eisenhower and the Military, the former at $39.70 each, the latter at $48.30. Forty uniforms would be needed bringing the cost to $1932.00. It was decided to contact all local civic organizations requesting they sponsor one or more uniforms.

It also was brought out at the meeting that an amount similar to that needed for uniforms was needed to purchase new instruments to replace those worn out but still in use.

To improve the quality of the band it was suggested that the school board be asked to engage a music director on a 12-month basis, rather than just for the school term, and that during the vacation period that all interested musicians, whether students or not, be invited to join the organization. The view of course is to in time develop a city or municipal band.

A vote of thanks was extended to Frank MacPhetridge for his fine work on posters for the bake sale and the approaching band concert.

At the close of the meeting Rex Stowe showed colored slides taken by himself at the Marble field of various games in which the Braves participated and of appearances of the GHS band.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Elihu Rasmussen. The next meeting will be on the third Tuesday in December.

Revised Agreements Boost Oil Income

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanon has quadrupled its income from foreign oil companies by quietly negotiating new agreements with the Iraq Petroleum Co., and the Trans-Arabian Pipeline.

As presented to Parliament for ratification, the new agreements will increase Lebanon's annual income from oil companies from $725,143 to $2,354,571. In case neighboring countries improve their agreements with pipeline companies, Lebanon's revenue will be increased automatically in proportion.

Shining Deer Brings Arrest

Three more hunters have appeared before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg to answer to charges of violating game laws.

Gaylord Snyder, 19, St. Johns, Mich., and Willard Widmer, 24, Fowler, Mich. were arraigned yesterday morning on charges of using artificial light in an effort to take and kill deer. Pleas of guilty were entered and each was fined $25 and costs of $7.80.

The men were hunting in Garden Township. Arrests were made by Conservation Officer Edwin Moore, Escanaba.

Pleading guilty to a charge of transporting in an auto a rifle, the magazine of which was loaded, Harry LaBumbard, Bark River, formerly of Rapid River, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $7.80 when arraigned before Justice Sohlberg Tuesday night.

Arrest in the case was made by Conservation Officer Glenn Price of Gladstone.

Alger-Delta REA Starts Rural Electric Survey

A survey to obtain detailed information regarding the future electric power requirements of this area has been launched by the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative.

In recent months representatives of the City of Gladstone, City of Escanaba and the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative association, faced with the need of finding a new source of electric power, have been holding conferences and facing the decision of building a steam generating plant.

If built, it will be the largest and most modern electric power plant in Upper Michigan, according to Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager of the Alger-Delta REA. Because of the size of the project, considerable research, study and planning must be done before a final decision can be reached.

The responsibility of supplying electric power throughout the rural areas of Alger, Delta, Menominee, Marquette and Schoolcraft counties calls for long range planning and construction of power facilities on a schedule timed to deliver adequate power to any point in the territory on the date it is needed, Nieuwenkamp states. This necessitates the detailed survey.

At the request of Raymond Berger, Route 1, Wilson, president of the Alger-Delta REA, two members of the Rural Electrification Administration staff: namely, Henry Bowen, Lansing, general field representative, and Charles Kenyon, Washington, D. C., field loan specialist, are assisting the cooperative in developing the needed information.

Township supervisors are being contacted and are being asked to spot on specially prepared maps the locations of all unelectrified dwellings and establishments in their respective townships. The cooperation and assistance of everyone will be of value to the survey and contribute to the solution of Delta County's acute electric power problem, it is pointed out.

When the survey is completed the facts will be compiled and included in the application to the Rural Electrification Administration for a loan to build the generating plant. The Alger-Delta REA is doing its utmost to develop a solution to the are-wide power problem as quickly as possible, Nieuwenkamp states.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to neighbors, friends and relatives for the assistance and sympathy tendered us at the time of our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Fred Legault.

Especially are we grateful to those who sent spiritual and floral bouquets, offered autos for the services, the Rev. Frs. Matt LaViolette, Thomas Andary and Arnold Thompson, members of the student choir, the pallbearers, the Holy Name society, and all others who by word or deed assisted us at this time. The memory of these acts always will remain with us.

Signed:

Mrs. Fred Legault and family

C-C Directors Talk Yule Plans

Oliver Gabrielson, president of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce, has been assigned to arrange for the appearance of Santa Claus in the kindergartners of Gladstone schools and at Kipling on the last day of school before the Christmas holiday and in local stores several times during the pre-Christmas shopping season.

This was decided at an abbreviated meeting of the C-C board of directors this week.

Gabrielson also is to make preparation for sufficient candy, peanuts and other necessities for the annual Christmas party for children.

Details will be definitely set at a meeting to be held Dec. 9. The Retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce is being requested to have stores remain open on Dec. 22-23 and close at the usual hour on Christmas Eve.

A letter of welcome is to be sent to the Vagn Bakery which has established a retail outlet in Gladstone.

Establishment of an employment office for teen-agers was suggested and favorably considered but no action was taken.

Construction of China's Great Wall was started by Emperor Chin Sih Huang Ti in 219 B. C.

City Briefs

Sgt. David Legault has received his discharge from Fort Belvoir, Va., and has returned to Gladstone. Sgt. Legault served in Korea for 9 months and has been in service for two years. He is the son of Mrs. Fred Legault.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mott have left for Detroit to visit with members of their family.

Bill Schram has returned to Chicago following a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schram. He also did some deer hunting while here.

Escanaba, St. Joe Cagers Face Long, Tough Seasons

Escanaba and St. Joe high schools open long, rough cage schedules with their meeting Saturday night at Bonifas gym.

Coach Burt Gustafson's Eskymos face a 16-game slate against the top high school talent in the Upper Peninsula. All are regular opponents with the exception of a new foe, Marquette, added this season. The Marines are the only Wisconsin team on Escanaba's schedule.

Escanaba has seven home games on its 1952-53 schedule.

The home opener is Nov. 29 against Marquette. The Eskymos have six home-and-home series and four single game foes this season. They meet St. Joe, Kingsford, Iron Mountain and Manistique once each while facing Marquette, Marquette, Ishpeming, Gladstone, Stephenson and Menominee twice each.

Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans have a schedule of 14 regular games plus the annual Parochial school tournament, of which St. Joe is defending champion.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Tennessee was back on top of the Associated Press weekly football poll, displacing Michigan State.

FIVE YEARS AGO—The Boston Bruins regained first place in the National Hockey League by beating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 7-2.

TEN YEARS AGO—Willie Pep, 125, outpointed chalky Wright, 125½, in 15 rounds to win the N.Y. State version of the featherweight championship.

Wolves Polish Attack For Final Grid Clash

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, running its annual Buckeye fever, polished up its dangerous double-T attack today for the big season-ending feud with Ohio State.

Shooting for a victory that would give them at least a share of the Big Ten title with co-leader Wisconsin and a possible Rose Bowl bid, the Wolverines counted heavily on their big dual threat contained in Michigan's two "Teds"—Halfback Ted Kress and quarterback Ted Topor.

The two Teds have accounted for more than half of the team's entire offensive total of 2,776 yards

Comeback Win Posted By Pep

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A confident, crafty Willie Pep, his latest "comeback" opponent listed as a victim, says he'll fight anyone, anytime to gain another crack at winning back his featherweight crown from Sandy Saddler.

The bobbing veteran put on his usual show Wednesday night to win a unanimous, 10-round decision from Fabella Chavez, a youngster from Hollywood, Calif. Both weighed 129.

It was just a matter of Pep's craftiness—with some nice help from a jabbing left and a head-snapping right—that gave the Hartford, Conn., ex-champ the clear-cut victory. Judges Howard Hess and Fred Connell, and Referee Ray Palmer saw the fight the same way, 58-42.

The promoters were not enthused with the outcome at the gate. A crowd of 2,491, just a drop in the 15,000-seat arena bucket, paid a bare $5,593.50 to see the nationally and locally televised bout in person.

There were no knockdowns in the fight, but the 24-year-old Chavez almost went down in the sixth when Pep uncorked a quick, short right between sharp, bothersome left jabs. Pep thought Chavez should have been finished at that point and conveyed his thoughts to referee Palmer, who disagreed.

Fan Fare

Site of the tourney has not been named this season. It will be staged during the Christmas recess.

The Trojans have only three home-and-home series this season, with Bark River, Gladstone and Stephenson. Single games are slated with Escanaba, Manistique, Norway, Gwinn, Munising, St. Paul of Negaunee, Rapid River and Baraga Parochial of Marquette.

Nine of the St. Joe games will be played at Bonifas gym.

Albion Wins Seventh Cross Country Crown

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Paced by star runner Al Nichols, the Albion College cross country team won its seventh consecutive MIAA crown yesterday.

Nichols took individual honors as his team compiled its winning low score of 18 points. Second-place Adrian had 59 points, and Hope 68. Alma, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo and Olivet trailed in that order.

Southern Cal, UCLA Game Shapes Up As Even Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The football teams at Southern California and UCLA eased down a bit in workouts today and, barring the unforeseen, will go into their Pacific Coast Conference championship game in Memorial Coliseum Saturday in near-perfect condition.

The possibility that Southern California's great tackle, Bob Van Doren, may not be able to play cast a pall of gloom in the Trojan camp. Dr. Willis L. Jacobus, team physician, said Van Doren has not progressed satisfactorily from a mild concussion suffered in last week's game against Washington.

"It is quite doubtful whether he will be ready by Saturday," said Dr. Jacobus. X-rays and brain

Oklahoma Bowl Talk Dies, Players Balk

By GENE KINNEY

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's brief flirtation with post-season football appeared to be a dead affair today with bowl fever cooled by the team, university president and regents chairman.

The formal end to the strange episode was expected to come today the same way it started—at a meeting of the Board of Regents.

The official attitude was that a New Year's Day game, like the Orange Bowl which had an invitation ready, would be nice.

Price Too Steep

But not at the price of disciplinary action by the Big Seven Conference for violating its ban on post-season athletics, or severing ties with the bowl altogether.

The 24-hour bowl binge, touched off by a student demonstration Tuesday night, reached its climax Wednesday when the decision was dumped into the player's laps.

The Sooners, No. 5 in the poll, voted to accept a bowl bid but only if the Big Seven relaxed its restrictions, which it refused to do a week ago.

Players balked at taking action which would jeopardize, or even end relations with the conference, and thus have far-reaching effect on every school sport.

And so Eddie Crowder, the slick split-T quarterback talking for the team, executed a neat verbal hand-off to the regents, who tossed the ball in the first place by voting secretly to permit a bowl trip if Dr. George L. Cross, president and the team approved.

With the player decision, however, Dr. Cross—who set the Big Seven on its ear Tuesday night in putting a bowl bid up to the team—said he saw no need for further action.

In This Corner With Roy Crandall

The final Saturday of Big Ten is already in sight... The race winds up Saturday with a number of key games on tap... The big prize is a trip to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl... Three teams are in contention, although one of them stands only a slim chance.

Here's the picture: Wisconsin and Michigan are currently tied for first place with four wins and one loss each... Minnesota and Purdue are next at three wins, one loss and a tie each... In Saturday's games Wisconsin takes on Minnesota, Michigan meets Ohio State and Purdue goes against Indiana.

Wisconsin could cop the crown by beating Minnesota if Michigan loses to Ohio State... Likewise, the Wolverines would be in if they beat Ohio State and Wisconsin loses to Minnesota... But, if Michigan and Purdue both lose and Minnesota beats the Badgers the Gophers would be left alone at the top.

However, it looks from here like Michigan and Wisconsin should come through Saturday... That would leave these two teams knotted for first place with five conference wins and one defeat... In that case it will be up to faculty representatives in the conference to decide which team goes to the Rose Bowl, and our guess is that they would take the Badgers, keeping in mind the fact that Michigan already has made two trips to the coast.

A faithful Michigan State College football fan has figured out how he COULD have piled up a fantastic sum of money... If he had placed a $1 bet on the William & Mary game—the first Michigan State win in its 23-game victory streak—and doubled it on each succeeding game he would now have a stack of money totaling $4,194,304!

wave tests showed no serious injury, but the big defensive tackle has been complaining of headaches all week.

Winner Gets Plum

The battle, with the winner heading on to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl engagement with the Big Ten representative, still shapes up as an even struggle between a pair of teams unbowed and united in eight games apiece.

If either has an advantage, it is Southern California's greater reserve strength.

The UCLA coach, Red Sanders, while conceding nothing to the Trojans, either on offensive or defense, did admit this:

"Well, they do have more football players than we do."

An injury in the game to one of Sanders' starters, say halfback Paul Cameron or blocking back Lewis Williams, or inebacter Donn Moomaw, would work an extreme hardship.

Trojan Coach Jess Hill conceivably would not be harmed too much by injuries. There isn't much to choose between his first and second platoons on either offense or defense.

Loaded With Backs

One of Hill's problems, it would appear, has been deciding which of his various combinations in the backfield might be the most effective. He has about five tailbacks, headed by Jimmy Sears.

The game, to be witnessed by millions of television fans and a sellout crowd of 101,043 on the scene, will feature a duel between 167-pound Sears, No. 32 for the televiewers, and rangy, 180-pound Cameron, No. 34?

Cameron has completed 30 out of 80 throws for 429 yards and eight touchdowns, with three interceptions. He has gained 150 yards in the 60 times he's run with the ball.

Sears has completed 30 out of 80 throws for 528 yards and seven touchdowns, and four have been intercepted. He has a rushing gain of 298 yards in 103 tries.

No Change In State Cage Tourney Setup

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The controversial rule that bars the majority of 19-year-olds from high school athletics in Michigan was scheduled for discussion today at a general meeting of the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Opponents of the rule were expected to propose that a youth who reaches his 19th birthday during a school year be permitted to complete the full sports program of that year. At present such youths are limited to the completion of sports falling in the half year in which their birthday occurs.

At a preliminary session last night, the association's 14-member representative council voted to follow last year's plan for operating the Michigan high school basketball tournament in March. Tournament finals will be played in Jenison Fieldhouse at Michigan State College.

Name Sauer National Loop's Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Sauer, the rags to riches outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, today was named the Most Valuable Player in the National League for the 1952 by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The selection of the 33-year-old Chicago slugger came as a surprise to many as Sauer slumped badly during the last month of the season following a brilliant start.

Sauer won his circuit's highest honor by a narrow margin over

Robin Roberts, the graceful right-hander of the Philadelphia Phillies, and Joe Black, the rookie relief expert of the pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers.

Black Is Third

The Chicago star, whose climb to major league stardom was a tortuous path, collected 226 points out of a possible 336. Roberts, who won more games than any other pitcher, 28, finished second with 211 points. Black, who made Brooklyn's entry into the World Series possible, was third with 208.

Sauer, a 6-foot-4, 200-pound bruiser ran into a terrible slump in September. He hit only three homers drove in seven runs and collected 16 hits in 75 times at bat.

Despite this poor showing the Cub cleanup hitter wound up tied for league home run honors with Pittsburgh's perennial champion, Ralph Kiner, at 37 each. He also led the loop in runs batted in with 121, the highest of his major league career, and batted 270.

Musial Fifth

Three writers from each major league city participated in the balloting. Points were awarded on 14 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third and so on down the line.

Only other players to poll 100 or more votes were Hoyt Wilhelm, the rookie relief specialist of the New York Giants, and Stan Musial, the six-time batting champion of the St. Louis Cardinals. Wilhelm placed fourth with 33 points and he $85,000-a-year Musial fifth, with 127.

Rounding out the top 10 were: Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, 92 points; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, 31 points; Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider, Brooklyn, 29 points each; and Roy Campanella, Brooklyn, and Red Schoendienst, St. Louis, 25 points each.

Spartans Have 19 Seniors Playing Final Grid Game

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—A squad loaded with seniors like the 1952 outfit at Michigan State should guarantee a rousing football game for the tail-end against Marquette Saturday.

Most of the 19 men graduating this year have never known defeat.

"If anyone told me after Maryland beat us in 1950," said one senior, then a sophomore, "that we'd be trying to win our 24th some Saturday, 'I'd think he was crazy.'"

Have Pro Bids

Some from the 1952 squad will be grabbed off by the pros. A few have already accepted bids for bowl games. But this is the last one the seniors will play as a unit.

Graduating from the backfield are halfbacks Don McAuliffe and Vince Pisano and fullbacks Wayne Benson and Dick Panin. Panin will watch the game from the sidelines with his broken leg in a cast.

A great group of linebacksers, Dick Tamburo, Ed Timmerman, and Doug Weaver will play their last game together.

Quarterback Willie Thrower, an attraction, will be tossing his farewell passes for Michigan State.

Defensive backs bowing out include John Wilson, Ray Vogt and Leo Boyd.

Ends Are Through

Offensive ends Doug Bobo and Paul Dekker and defensive end Ed Luke come to the end of the college trail.

Lost from the line after this one will be Howard Adams, Joe Klein, Frank Kush, Jake Morgan and Gordon Serr.

"We're all tired from the constant pressure all season," said Coach Biggie Munn, "but the boys want to win this one. If they do they'll have a proud record to remember."

Munn is toying with the idea of starting Willie Thrower, the favorite of the fans, at quarterback for his last game.

Middleweights To Battle Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Laruping Lee Sala, a converted southpaw who has stopped 48 of his 74 opponents, will pit his punching power against superior boxer Carl (Bobo) Olson here tonight in a 10-rounder bringing together two of the top ranking middleweights of the country.

Important stakes rest on the outcome. Olson, from Honolulu, is rated No. 1 contender in New York for the title held by presently inactive Sugar Ray Robinson. Olson lost a close 15-round decision to Robinson last March.

Sala, a left hook specialist from Donora, Pa., strengthened his challenger's claim considerably a few weeks ago when he gave another topnotcher, Norman Hayes, a bad beating. Sala's impressive record lists only four defeats.

Perkins Swamps Engadine 75-25 In Cage Opener

PERKINS — With two regulars sitting it out on the bench here last night, Perkins opened its 1952-53 cage season with a 75-25 victory over a hapless Engadine team.

With all available players seeing action and all hitting the scoring column, Perkins was off to a 15-4 first quarter lead and outscored Engadine in every period.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to friends and relatives for their kindnesses shown us in the last illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Ellen Gasman. We are grateful for the floral offerings, the comforting words of Rev. Karl Hammar and Pastor Lindbloom the pallbearers, those who contributed cars to the choir, the memorial cards, to the Ladies Aid of Salem Lutheran Church, and those who aided in other ways.
